

RUSH OF PUPILS AT OPENING OF SCHOOL

The Attendance Far Exceeds
That at the Time of June Closing.

The opening of the fall term at the Redcliff school brought a rush of pupils which vindicates the statements of school board members made last June to the effect that the present accommodations would prove utterly inadequate. All of the teachers are here and at work and are trying to give the regular course of instruction in classes overflowing. One room has over sixty pupils. Yet from statements of parents who have not yet enrolled their children in the fall semester it would appear that the present enrollment will be considerably augmented. The new school building is progressing rapidly, the side walls being up to the full height, and it is probable that it will be roofed over in a few days and be completed for occupancy late next month.

SALES FOR WEEK TOTAL $50,000

Real Estate Transactions Put to Rest All Talk of Stagnation.

That real estate is active in Redcliff in the height of the harvest season at the close of the lightest financial season in years is apparent by a perusal of some of the real estate sales made the past week which in total volume, though incomplete for the entire transactions, total approximately $100,000.

The Redcliff Realty Co. heads the list with sales of lots and acreage aggregating $16,000. F. G. McBride sold $9,500 worth; Doctor Bomer sold a block for $7,000. McKen & Cuts p block, Mr. McColg three lots, Shipley Investment Co., four lots, Chase. White four lots, and in addition to this volume of sales it is understood that property in block 62 was sold to the value of $5,000, although who the vendor was could not be learned.

Canada's Wheat Trade
With Germany Growing.
Canada is working up with Germany a good sized trade in wheat and is tentatively cutting into Australia as a source of supply in that regard. Consular figures for 1912 received at Ottawa show that importations of wheat from Canada aggregate 2,990, 240 bushels, as against 384,714 in the previous year. Imports of wheat from Australia last year were 560,710 bushels, a decrease of 508,000 as compared with 1911.

Labor Day was celebrated in quiet manner in Redcliff on Monday while most of our citizens journeyed to meet Redcliff, (better known as the Hat) and took in the sports.

LIBEL CHARGE WARRANT SERVED ON TEAMSTER

Signed Information Against Local House Turned as Complaint Against Author—Second Hearing
This Morning—Late Evidence Favors Defense—
Valuable Witnesses Show Character of Place.

Robert Rowan, a witness in the recent Turner case of an alleged attempt to bribe the Redcliff police department, was served with papers last Tuesday morning by Chief of Police Sullivan charging him with publishing certain libelous statements in writing regarding the character of one Mrs. Joe Hafl.

Rowan was placed in jail on such grounds and was released on bail furnished by two prominent business men, who believe in the enforcement of justice.

A. B. Clow, City Attorney, lined up with the defense of Robert Rowan and put some strong questions to Chief of Police Sullivan in the first hearing of the case, which was held in the court house on Tuesday afternoon. The second hearing started at ten o'clock this morning. The testimony in the first hearing follows:

THE TESTIMONY

Attorney O'Neill, the new lawyer in the local field, appeared for the complainant and moved that the complaint be so amended as to conform to section 317 of the Criminal Code. Attorney Clow waived all objections.

MRS. HAFL ON STAND

On examination Mr. Hafl said that she did not know the defendant except by sight.

Attorney O'Neill produced a letter purporting to be the character of Mrs. Hafl. The letter stated that she never met the accused on the 9th of August. Mrs. Hafl said if the accused says so he says so falsely. She further stated that she never asked him to go to her house on that or any other date. She first saw the letter on Sept. 1.

Mrs. Hafl stated that she never spoke to the accused in her life except when he bought ice from him. She also stated that she first saw the letter in question when presented to her by the Chief of Police. The chief had first shown this letter to Mr. Hafl, her husband, and her husband told her about it, and Mrs. Hafl. She first knew Sullivan was Chief of Police about two weeks ago, according to her testimony.

ON CROSS EXAMINATION

Q. When was the first time that the Chief was in your house?
A. Yesterday.

Q. When was the first time the accused brought her to you?
A. About six weeks ago.

Q. Was there a girl by the name of Rosie Ritch at your house?
A. Yes she is my cousin; she was there about a week.

The counsel for the prosecution here objected to the introduction of the name of Rosie Ritch in this case. The objection was overruled.

Q. What was she doing?
A. She was an actress.

Q. Did she receive callers at your house?
A. No.

Prosecution here objected but the witness was already on record.

Q. A. She would not let her receive callers.

Q. Did she ask you if she could have visitors.

Q. Did the chief ever speak to you about her?
A. No.

Q. Did you know her to be a woman of low character.

The prosecution here entered an objection which was over-ruled.

A. She was not a woman of low character.

SULLIVAN'S TESTIMONY.

Q. Do you know the accused?
A. Yes, for some two months. He has appeared in this court twice, being accused of disorderly conduct twice.

Attorney Clow, for the defense, objected to this question and was sustained. The testimony was expunged.

Q. Do you recognize this letter?
A. Yes, it is my writing and was taken by me on the 14th of August. (By Rowan's dictation.)

"The signature is not my writing," continued the chief; it is that of the accused and he was in my office when he signed it. He said he would not see anything and this letter is the result.

He (Sullivan) had shown it to Mr. Hafl and thought it ought to be investigated. He had observed most of the house of Redcliff and says he found nothing wrong at the Hafl house.

Q. Have you seen anything around this house that would lead you to believe that it was a house of ill-fame?
A. Yes. The Mrs. Hafl asked my advice and I told them that they could get out a warrant for the accused and have him arrested. I believed Mrs. Hafl to be an upright woman.

Q. When did you first call at the Hafl house?
A. About a month ago. He spoke to Hafl himself.

Q. When was the first time you spoke to her?
A. On August 12th. He told her he was arresting the accused.

Q. When did you first come to watch this place?
A. About the 14th or 15th of August.

He (Sullivan) said he never had the place marked as a house of ill-fame.

Q. Do you know Rosie Ritch?
A. Yes.

Q. What is she?
A. I don't know.

Here Attorney Clow plumed the witness down to the issue.

Q. Did you not tell me on a certain occasion that this said Rosie Ritch was a sporting woman?
A. I don't remember.

Q. What investigation did you make?
A. None.

ATTORNEY'S TESTIMONY.

Joe Hafl was then called out on the stand.

He said he had lived in Redcliff about four months.

Q. Do you know Rosie Ritch?
A. Yes, she stayed at my house five or six days. She behaved well in my presence. She never had any men friends in my house. She slept in my house every night in Redcliff.

The prosecution here rested its case and on the defense's request that the case be carried over until today at 10 o'clock the court so decreed.

HOUSE EGGS FOR BOTH TEAMS IN PITCHER'S GAME

Redcliff Ball Club Has New Lease of Life in a Scoreless Game.

REEM PITCHES FINE BALL

Independents Unable to Connect With Third Base-man's Shouts.

In a short fast game of ball between Redcliff and Independents of Medicine Hat Wednesday evening, the four innings of play before darkness set in saw but one runner reach third base. A whitewash the result, Joe Oullette for Redcliff, in the second inning reached first on a walk, stole second and reached third on a passed ball, but died at that position when the next three men up struck out.

Disaster in the final determination pitch for Redcliff, so third-baseman Reem took the mound and it was just a one-two-three procession after that. In four innings Reem had ten strikeouts to his credit. He allowed but one man to get a free ticket and two safe signals were made.

The game was so conspicuous by the absence of base-runners that at no time was there much hope of checking any scores on either side. Reem showed splendid pitching control, and though the batsmen who faced him said he put over principally a straight ball with lots of spin, yet they could not seem to do anything with it. Reem did not let his ball make no error, while the visitors made one error.

GEO. M. LOCKWOOD DIES IN CALIFORNIA

Mr. W. T. Lockwood Is Wired
But Arrives to Late—Tubercular Trouble the Cause.

Mr. W. T. Lockwood, of the Redcliff Realty Company, received a wire last Saturday evening that his brother, Geo. M. Lockwood, was dying in Los Angeles, and he hurriedly took his brother's bedside, but death overtook the sick man Sunday morning while Mr. Lockwood had scarcely gotten started.

Tuberculosis of some standing was responsible for the death of Geo. M. Lockwood. He had gone to California from Ohio to recuperate. His wife and children accompanied him and were with him at the time of his death.

The train will be taken back to Ohio for interment. Mr. W. T. Lockwood will be in attendance at the funeral with the widow, children and immediate relatives of the deceased, and probably will not be back in Redcliff for ten days or two weeks.

Improvement League Meets Next Friday.

A meeting of the Women's Civic Improvement Society will meet next Friday afternoon, the 12th, at a week from today, at 3 p.m. in the Grand hall. The officers of the league extend a special invitation to all the ladies of Redcliff to be present at this meeting.

Gets Foreign Post.

Miss Katherine Hughes, formerly of the Montreal Star and Edmonton Bulletin, has been appointed secretary and assistant to John A. Reed, the newly appointed agent-general for Alberta in England, to be stationed in London. She will go abroad early in September.

Miss Hughes is a former Vice-president of the Canadian Women's Press Club.

CHIEF PATRICK SULLIVAN SUSPENDED PENDING AN INVESTIGATION

Turbulent Council Meeting Thronged with Crowd to the Street—Public Sentiment Actuates a Definite Stand—Committee of Investigation
Is Appointed—Cemetery and Hospital Recommended—Coroner and Pound Keeper Named.

The suspension of Chief of Police Sullivan pending an investigation of charges made up by petitioners alleging general incompetency in the administration of the duties of his office and gross negligence, virtually based in one point on the reference to the place of lodging of Chief Sullivan adjoining a room where gambling was alleged to be in progress and making no effort to stop it, was the final determination of the city council in the regular meeting of that body in the fire hall on Wednesday evening before a capacity crowd stretching far into the street.

HON. DR. ROCHE IN REDCLIFF

Minister of Interior Visits
Amazement at Local Industries.

Honorable Dr. Roche, Minister of the Interior of the Dominion, arrived in Redcliff, Alberta, last night, after a long and arduous journey. He was met by a large crowd of people, and he was taken to the hotel where he was staying. He was in Redcliff for a short time, and he was very much interested in the local industries.

Dr. Roche was shown about town by Dr. R. R. Stoner in the latter's auto and visited the different manufacturing plants. Speaking of Redcliff the Minister stated that in all Canada he had never seen a town that had grown with such rapidity on such a stable basis. Particularly he remarked the magnitude and substantial character of the industries situated here and predicted a great future for the city. Although he had heard considerable of Redcliff, Dr. Roche stated he was not prepared to see a town of such potential resources. He was also very optimistic in speaking of conditions in the East and of a prosperous 1914.

LIGHT AND POWER BUILDING ASSURED

Offices of the Company Will Be Adjoining the Present
Realty Building.

The officers of the Redcliff Light and Power Co. announced definitely that work will be started shortly on the new building to house the offices of this concern on Thistle Street. It will be similar in design and construction to the Redcliff Realty building which it will adjoin on the north. It will be the width of one lot but 180 feet in depth and one story high. The business of this concern is carried on at present from the Realty building and is the cause of inconvenience through cramped quarters. The supplies of the company will probably be housed in a large store-room in the rear part of the new building.

Deputy Mayor Lavell declared that he did not see any quite sufficient to act on and that more specific charges should be made.

Mr. Frank Bensley, proprietor of the Club Lunch, arose and being importuned to explain his reasons, as representing the one hundred or more petitioners, for requesting the removal of Chief Sullivan, went on to state that in the minds of these whose names were appended the matter revolved itself into general dissatisfaction on the standpoint of incompetency.

Deputy Mayor Lavell declared that he did not see any quite sufficient to act on and that more specific charges should be made.

Mr. Roche replied that though he saw all these people, and that certain things had been done, he did not see any quite sufficient to act on and that more specific charges should be made.

Attorney O'Neill, speaking for Chief Sullivan stated that the petition was altogether out of place, that the signatures were more or less disinterested and many non-residents, and that the action of Councilor Richard Hoyle in signing the petition was bad play and warranted poor judgment, inasmuch as Mr. Hoyle is one who was in power at last.

There was a clamor of "sit down" etc., and Councilor Hoyle arose in subdued wrath and stated that he did not care to sit on a court of investigation in this case.

"I signed this petition," he said, "with due and many deliberations and forethought, and did not expect to be on a court of investigation. I believe Chief Sullivan to be incompetent and signed, as a citizen and a taxpayer. And furthermore, gentlemen and members of the council, if the mayor and chief were here I would ask a few more pertinent questions."

A Mr. West arose and made the most forcible statements of the evening. He declared that on the premises of court testimony was a matter of record that the evidence was sufficient to at least warrant an investigation and that under such circumstances any public official is subject to suspension until the truth or falsity of whatever charges of incompetency are proven, and that if the council, who are servants of the people, could not recognize the instance of the demands behind the petition, on the table and failed to take action that that was what he, as well as many others present and not present, wanted to know, so that they could get out of the town, as they did not see fit to live in Russia.

Councillor Hoyle stated that most of the petitioners were rate-payers and that the matter should not be dealt with off-hand that it required consideration, that the councilors were elected to carry out the wishes of the people and that he, for one, wanted to be dismissed when he failed to act in accordance therewith. He moved that an investigation committee be appointed, and Councilor Lydiatt seconded the motion.

Attorney Clow stated, when queried by Mayor Lavelle as to the legality of an investigation, that the number of signers was sufficient to warrant one and that such a course was fully within the law.

Councilor Hicks moved the appointment of Constable Reynolds as Chief of Police in the mean time. Councilor Lydiatt seconded the motion.

Councilors Hicks, Lydiatt and Hodge were first named as the investigating committee, but Mr. Hodge declined in compatibility with his previous declaration that his mind was made up. Councilor Lydiatt recommended that no time be lost in making the investigation. The police matters of the meeting ended at this point and many in the crowd dispersed.

One of the urgent matters which came before the Council was for some action on the matter of a burial ground for the city's dead. A letter signed by the city's ministers requesting that some provision for a cemetery be made was read before the Council. It was pointed out that to the bereaved it was very unsatisfactory to have to go to Medicine Hat to the graves of the departed. Mr. A. B. Clow, town attorney, has communicated with the clergy requesting them to be present at next 'Monday night' meeting of the council to discuss the matter.

Dr. H. W. Wall was appointed as corner of Redcliff.

In harmony with these same matters another body requesting an addition of a hospital to the city's institutions was represented in force by Mr. H. B. Cowan and Mr. A. B. Clow. These gentlemen would like cooperation of the city to the extent that the supporters of the project receive the sanction of the city in it and the assurance that when the hospital is erected the city will maintain it.

The building would cost $10,000, it is estimated.

A letter from James W. Halworth for the position of pound-keeper of Redcliff was read and acted upon favorably. Mr. Halworth being present.

Discussions took place in council regarding the laying of water pipes to the new Haywood cold storage plant in course of construction at the South End, the proposition of a police commission, which had been previously brought up, and the official relation of certain damaging statements regarding the selling value of Kentworth subdivision property that was said to have been published in Toronto Saturday Night.

The first matter was deferred; the formation of a police commission was considered unnecessary, as the council should be able to take care of police matters in the opinion of the whole Council, and the Kentworth matter will probably be gone into further.

Several members of the fire brigade were present at the meeting and were given the sanction of the council to go ahead and purchase the equipment which is absolutely essential. To create an efficient alarm in case of fire it was the desire of the brigade that a siren be installed on the central fire hall. Mr. Wray, of the Light and Power Co., stated that 35 pounds of pressure would blow off a heavy siren and that that gas pressure is now available to a siren which might be purchased and that the fire hall would be the logical location for it.

Mr. A. J. Nicholson, of the school board, made the request of the council that some of the school taxes collected be turned over to the board for current expenses and his request was acceded to. It is understood that the Royal Bank has been instructed to deliver $1,000 to the board.

Pathetic Case of Inhumanity to Young Boy

Five-Year-Old Runs Away to Redcliff to Escape
Whippings.

WAS AT REVIEW OFFICE

Back Is Black and Blue and Hand Has Been Badly
Scalded.

Medicine Hat, Sept. 3.—Mrs. Jessie Beatty, wife of a well known barriester, was fined twenty-five dollars and costs to-day by Magistrate Kealy on a charge of ill treating her child. The case came to light through the child, aged five, getting on a train in an effort to run away. He told the conductor that his parents abused him. He was brought back from Redcliff where the conductor put him off. Officer Orr said the boy's body was a mass of bruises.

The mother admitted leaving the child for falsifying. She also put his hand in hot water and badly scalded it because he would not wash his hands.

Magistrate Kealy expressed regret at being forced to pass sentence on the wife of a member of his own profession. The lad is a bright youngster and gave evidence, telling a clear story of the alleged abuses of his parents.

The foregoing account of ill-treatment of the little Beatty boy is apparently true or else his injuries were caused by some other means, as the boy has been in the office of the Review and before the entire staff of the paper his bruised, black and blue shoulders and leg were Donald McLochlan and W. S. McLean returned to Redcliff from Scotland in the very small hours of Wednesday morning and have been busy for a couple of days in getting used to the old town and in reuniting old acquaintances. Mr. McLochlan says that the worst thing about the old country is that beverages are so plentiful and the "craic" too scarce. However, neither the Scotsmen look as though they had been undergoing a hard time. They are flush with optimism in recollections as well as interest in Redcliff and the strides since they left.

Mr. McLochlan's family is following him and will be here in about three weeks. Mr. McLean's brother accompanied them on their return and will probably remain in Redcliff.

hired, showing evidence of pitiful mistreatment of a boy of that age. His hand is also bound up, being swathed in bandages and splints.

Mr. D. V. Palin, of Redcliff, who now has the custody of the child, related the story Thursday as follows:

"The child got off of the excursion train at Redcliff Monday night, and I took him from Mr. Morrell, the station agent. The next morning when he was taken to Dr. Brown he was found to be in a bad condition. I held him until Tuesday night and then went down to Medicine Hat to get the authorities to act.

"The case came up yesterday (Wednesday) and I was called on the stand. The child had been taken to the Chief of Police and School Health Inspector Mays. It was the second time he had 'run away, leaving home the first time two weeks ago.

"The case resulted in imposing a fine of $25 and costs and the boy was turned over to Mr. Mays, who gave him to me."

"He refused to go home with his parents, his plea being: 'Don't let dad and mama take me.'"

Business Meeting of Fire Brigade

The following account of the business of the fire brigade was handed to the Review on Wednesday:

On Tuesday last the Fire Brigade held another meeting. It was well attended and Mr. Spence was in the chair owing to Captain Jack Calderwood being absent through illness. A vote of sympathy was passed and every member of the Brigade hopes he will soon be out and about again.

A very pleasant surprise was the return of our Chief Mr. Turner. He came a little late but that did not abate an uproarious reception which was given him. Although he has been absent for a meeting or two he proved to us that he has not been idle to the interests of the Fire Brigade. At the meeting he was full of business and was elected by the meeting with Mr. Harvey and Mr. Spencer to go to see the Fire Committee with regard to our South End Fire Station. This is a thing we must have and have at once too. The Brick and Coal Company have kindly donated a lot for the erection of a sub-station.

Three new members were enrolled at Tuesday night's fire meeting. It has since been learned that Chief Turner has made arrangements with all of the factories to blow off their steam alarms when notified by the phone central that there is a fire. It is understood that the fire chief has attended to all of the details preparatory to the erection of the South End fire hall.

Review Want Adds Main-
Great Lost—Found

That honesty is at a high water mark in Redcliff is strikingly apparent by the results which Review lost adds have shown in the last few weeks. The latest incident was the return to Mr. B. A. Meisner of this city, of a twenty-dollar bill, lost in the post-office a week ago Saturday and found by A. Symon. Realizing that it was lost where some one was sure to pick it up, Mr. Meisner advertised it, although money is usually the last thing to expect to find, but Mr. Symon notified the loser on reading the ad.

Graves Suffers Fractured Leg In Runaway

Well-known Old-timer Gets Thrown out of Heavy Dray Wagon.

Burt Graves was thrown out of a heavy vehicle belonging to the Elliott and Lang Co. on Sixth street yesterday morning and sustained a compound fracture of the right leg above the ankle. Mr. Graves was driving when an auto frightened the team. The horses bolted, dragging the lumbering vehicle over the open prairie. A bump caused the wagon to career, throwing Mr. Graves out and causing the injury.

The horses were soon stopped and Mr. Graves was taken back to the livery barn where Dr. H. W. Wall, who had been called, attended him and set the broken bone firmly in splints. Mr. Graves was then taken to the hospital at Medicine Hat, where he is now resting nicely. Mr. Graves belongs to the order of Canadian Foresters and is highly thought of in fraternal circles and among all who know him. The wagon was only slightly damaged and the team was at work again soon after the accident.

Calgarians Impressed With Redcliff Outlook.

Mr. Chas. Jackson of Calgary, accompanied by Mr. Wilfrid Creighton, also of that city, was in Redcliff Tuesday and in being conducted around to the city's manufacturing plants expressed great surprise at the lack of this city has compared with other towns throughout the West. Mr. Jackson was in this locality thirty years ago, when there was no railroad here, and to-day owns what was part of a homestead now situated in the heart of Calgary. From his experience and the insight into the conditions which foster the growth of these cities, Mr. Jackson takes reason to assert that Redcliff will be in the front ranks in years to come. Mr. Creighton was also surprised with Redcliff.

Baptist Church.
Services held in Crow's Hall. Morning worship at 11 o'clock, subject—Pure Religion. Children's sermon: "The Butterfly at Sea." Evening worship 7:30 o'clock. Subject—"The Buying Price." Come early and enjoy the song service. Bible school 12 noon. The adult classes have grown until it has seemed advisable to separate them into a ladies class and a men's class. These classes will be organized this coming Sunday. Mrs. Gillespie has consented to teach the ladies' class and Mr. Hines will teach the men's class. It is hoped that a large number will feel it their privilege to get back of the organized bible class movement and help make it the success which it deserves.

Munson—Copeland.
At the Manse, on Tuesday evening, Mr. Robert Edmund Munson and Miss Maggie Mary Copeland were united in marriage by Rev. G. Lawson Gordon. Mr. Munson has been in town for a few months and his bride came in on Saturday. They now take up their residence on Fifth street. The Review joins their many friends in wishing them happy housekeeping and full enjoyment throughout a long life of the privileges which Redcliff offers.

LIBEL CHARGE WARRANT SERVED ON TEAMSTER

morning at 10:30, the attorney for the prosecution arriving late. Bob Rowan, the defendant, was called onto the stand and was asked to give a statement of the case that he is charged with, and accordingly made his deposition, which in substance is as follows:

"I was invited there (to the Hoff house) by Rosie Ritch, who had promised to come to my room. I went there at about 9:30 p. m., wrapped on the door, and Mrs. Hoff came and opened the door and said that Rosie was at the show and for me to come back at 11:30. I was going on the south side of the house and passed a window. I saw a man going to the back door. That man was not Mr. Hoff. I walked toward the street and saw the back door open and a man came out and went south-east. I walked toward my stable and heard some one whistle, and the door opened and Mrs. Hoff and Rosie entered the house at this time. I went back to the house lying on the north and heard Mrs. Hoff and Rosie Ritch and two men."

Here was entered testimony which is unfit for publication but is a matter of court record.

"I went to the back door," continued Rowan, "and rapped. Mrs. Hoff came and pulled up the blind. She asked me who was there. I told her and she said: 'Come at 11:30; Rosie isn't home yet.' I told her to —. I told her she may be for the ice. She said she could not pay, but to come back at 11:30 and it would be all right. I told her I would have to go. Just then Chief Sullivan came along with a lath in his hand. He tapped me on the leg with it and asked me what I was doing there. I answered: 'I ain't doing anything.' I was just telling her what I thought of her."

"You had better come away," said Sullivan, "and my both started away and this woman came out and said he (Rowan) was making trouble for her. She went back to the house and we started to walk southwest."

"What do you want to make trouble for," asked Sullivan, and he told me I had better go home and go to bed and not go back any more. I told him I was not going to go back there any more and did not want to break the law. I told him I was going to the Quick Lunch and invited him to come along with me. I told him I had some whiskey at the shack. He didn't say whether he was going to have lunch or whiskey."

"The two men then went to the police station. Rowan then signed written information concerning the Hoff house. The Chief said to him that he couldn't prove it. Rowan said: 'Oh, yes, I can.'"

The Chief asked who he and Rowan replied that he (Sullivan) was one witness and that there were others.

Rowan was finally locked up. He was in his cell about an hour when Constable Reynolds appeared and let him out and they stood in front of the station talking when Sullivan came along and wanted to know what Rowan was doing out there. He replied that he was just walking around. The Chief then had a consultation with Reynolds, said Rowan, and he was then called inside again.

The Chief said for him to give him his money. He handed over what he had, amounting to $8.25. "I told him he could have my watch too, but he said he didn't care for it," said Rowan.

I said: "There's no use in locking me up: I'll be here in the morning."

The chief then asked Rowan to leave $5, and Rowan said "Fine and dandy."

Rowan was about to go when the chief said, "He guessed he would have to make it five," he the defendant said that that would be all right, too.

He (Sullivan), according to the testimony, then said that Rowan had better leave the whole $8.25 and not appear in the morning and the bail would simply be forfeited and nothing more would be said about it.

Rowan says he then went home and in the morning got to thinking the matter over and his conclusion was that the chief would pocket this money himself and he decided to put in an appearance at the court. He went over to the town hall at about 10 o'clock and there was no one there. He waited around a few minutes and then left and returned some time between eleven and twelve o'clock and went into the station and found Chief Sullivan and Constable Reynolds there. He says that the chief said: "Hi, hi, your tail is forfeited."

"I said: 'I guess not, you had better forfeit it to me; I was here at ten o'clock and there was no one present.'"

There was some talk after this and then Rowan said he would make it hot for Sullivan, and the latter then arrested him for trying to intimidate an officer, and was taken before the court, pled guilty, and was fined $10, and costs.

At this point, Attorney Clow asked the defendant if he had gotten back his $8.25 and he said he had not.

AFTERNOON SESSION.

This afternoon at 1:30 the Rowan case was called again. Two men took the stand for the defense and testified of relations with the second woman in the case in a way very damaging to the case of the prosecution.

Chief Sullivan had disappeared from the court room at 11:30 a. m. and did not reappear.

The counsel for the prosecution requested a withdrawal of the case this afternoon. The defense declined to accede to such a course, on the grounds that the charge was a serious one and all evidence should be introduced to settle the case once and for all.

In the meantime other testimony and evidence was introduced, including the register of the Laurel Hotel. The clerk of the hotel was present and recognized the register but could not recall the author of the registration "M. Ritch" under, date of August 7, which, if the same person as the Rosie Ritch in the case, would be evidence conflicting with testimonial statements of one of the complainants.

Two witnesses gave testimony of their joint observations of certain things transpiring the same night and before then both.

After all the evidence was on record Attorney Clow, counsel for the defense, directed his arguments to Magistrate Henderson in a forceful manner, stating that the evidence introduced was sufficient to brand the place a common bawdy house.

After quoting a passage of a section in the code concerning libel, Attorney Clow turned to Magistrate Henderson, saying: "And now, Your Worship, can you believe that those complainants who are here to-day preferring a charge of libel against this man—complainants who have been proven in court here to-day to have harbored a common prostitute—are capable of feeling these pangs of ridicule or really take offense at anything that could be possibly said about them according to the libel passage in this code?"

"Furthermore the code says that any private citizen can lay information about matters of public interest on what he reasonably may think warrants action by the police, and that such a course only calls for an investigation by the police if apparently necessary and does not lay the author liable to any legal proceedings when rendered and kept strictly as private information between the said parties."

Mr. Clow further quoted sections of the code.

"The defendant Rowan," he continued, "was privileged to convey information to the Chief in such matters and the Chief was by duty bound to receive it and honor it as such. The Chief should not communicate such information to others, as he has done in this case, and in doing so is laying himself open to prosecution."

With these plain and forceful statements Mr. Clow terminated his plea for the defense and rested on the justice of the court.

After a few moments of reflection, Magistrate Henderson looked up to the audience, the complainants and the counsel and spoke shortly, saying:

"My learned friend on the left has fairly and honestly quoted the code on this case and has clearly put his case before me, and in my mind, the prosecution gave its case away this afternoon, but in consideration of the evidence introduced by the prosecution in the two previous sessions of the hearing, I can come to but one conclusion in the matter, which is that the case be dismissed."

The motion in the court room was relieved and there appeared to be a genuine spirit of satisfaction among all the audience.

Neither Chief Sullivan nor any one representing him was present when the verdict was rendered at 4:30 this afternoon.

American Trade in Duties.

Neither preferential duties for British products nor the sentimental arguments of American reciprocity suffices to turn Canadian buyers to the Motherland. In spite of everything, the United States continues to furnish Canada with what she needs in increasing proportion. In 1897, the year when the Dominion granted the British preference, British imports were 27.6 per cent. of all Canadian imports. Since then the British percentage has fallen to 20.8, while the American proportion has risen from 53.5 to 65.5.

As for the rejection of the Reciprocity Treaty by the Canadian people, it was due to an outburst of misguided patriotism and evinced in no way their determination to trade as free as possible with us. Protection and imperialism are all well enough in their way, but the thrifty Canadian means to buy wherever he can buy best and cheapest. American goods reach him in a few hours, whereas British goods come too slowly, and are likely to be inferior when they do come.

Then the British manufacturers' navy on similar ignorance or obstinacy that leads them to such practices as involving and stating discounts in pounds, shillings and pence, which is annoying to the Canadian who long ago adopted the American decimal system. C. Hamilton Wickes, British Trade Commissioner for Canada, in a recent report, rebuked the home manufacturers for the ignorance of and indifference to the ways and needs of the Canadian market, and declared that by the use of modern, energetic methods they could regain a larger share of a market that naturally belongs to them.

Such rebuffs might have some effect on British trade as compared with German trade in Canada, but there is really no chance of making much of the Canadian market, on this side of the Boundary. The Canadian, after all, is only a slightly different species of American from those on this side of the Boundary. His habits, customs, tastes, ideas, amusements, and a lot of other characteristics are identical with ours. Why shouldn't he trade principally with us—Reichstag.
